FAQs about RaiseRight

What are eGift cards?

Electronic gift cards (eGift cards) can be used for online and in-store purchases. eGift cards are immediately delivered to your Wallet.

How to view and use my eGift cards eGift cards can be viewed and redeemed from your Wallet. Most cards can be scanned at a retailer's register from your smartphone in the Wallet, but a few will need the gift card number entered manually. Some brands require a printed copy of the eGift card to redeem. To print an eGift card, open the eGift card in your Wallet and print. You may have to do this from the website if you do not have a printer connected to your mobile app.

Read the eGift card's Redemption Instructions for more information.

Can I add money to my physical gift cards?

Yes, many brands offer physical gift cards that can be reloaded electronically online. To add money to a reloadable card, go to the Wallet and choose "Add Card" to add it to your Wallet. Then, when your balance is running low, select the gift card from your Wallet and choose "Add Money" to keep earning with the same gift card.

Note: You can only add money to reloadable physical gift cards purchased from RaiseRight

I haven't received my order. What should I do?

Physical gift cards: These are delivered to your coordinator, so please check with them for an update. If you ordered cards to ship directly to your home, please allow up to 14 days and then call RaiseRight Customer Support.

eGift cards: eGift cards may take a few minutes to appear in your Wallet. If you don't see the eGift card you just purchased in your Wallet, try refreshing it after a few minutes. If you still don't see it, check your Order History within Account to see if your order is pending. You will also receive an email confirming your order or explaining why it may not be available for use.

How much money will my student make?

It will depend on how much you use RaiseRight and which cards you buy. Some Retailers have 5% rebates while others could have as much as 15%.

I bought a Starbucks card at Starbucks. Can I reload it with RaiseRight?

No. All reloadable cards must be purchased directly from RaiseRight the first time. RaiseRight keeps track of the serial numbers on the cards they sell and will only allow reloads to cards purchased through their program.

I tried to add money to a reloadable physical gift card and it's not working. Why?

It usually means you need to buy and register a new gift card. Here are some of the reasons why—you'll also get an email with an explanation:

- You've added money to the same gift card too many times. (This is different for each brand; some allow you to add money up to 99 times.)
- The gift card was purchased more than 12 months ago.
- The gift card had a $0.00 balance for more than 60 days.

You can also double check to see if the gift card you are attempting to reload requires overnight processing. This only applies to a few brands, noted in the General Information available for that brand.

How to update payment information.

Go to Settings in your Account tab to update your Payment Options information.

Participants pay a small fee for online payments:

Bank account: $0.29 fee on each transaction (flat fee regardless of your order size)

Credit card: 2.6% fee on each transaction (based on total value of order)

How to view my earnings

Go to your Dashboard within the Account. You will see your earnings for the last 3 months, 6 months, and year. The earnings shown are based on your total purchases and may not represent your organization's distribution policy if they only share a certain percentage of earnings with you.

How to change an order

If you are a program participant and placed a physical gift card order, you may be able to update your order by contacting your coordinator or RaiseRight Customer Support.

Money added to reloadable cards and eGift card purchases process immediately and cannot be canceled or returned.

If you are a coordinator and are placing an organization order, please note that physical card orders cannot be changed once they have started processing or have been billed. If the order has not started processing, you can make changes to the shipping address by going to the PO Manager and selecting "Edit PO." Any adjustments to products must be made by Customer Support.
